

Dunboyne ball for Cancer Society

DENIS Hughes and Corinne Ward Hughes from Dunboyne are organising a 'Cinderella Fights Cancer' ball in Dunboyne Castle Hotel on Saturday 11th February.

Denis explained: "Over the last number of years, both myself and my wife have lost grandparents, aunts, uncles and seen close friends lose parents to cancer. Having spent the previous two years planning our wedding, it was decided to fulfil a lifetime ambition of my wife's to run a Valentines charity ball.

"We chose the Irish Cancer Society because latest statistics show that over 30,000 people will be diagnosed with cancer this year in Ireland and one in three people in Ireland will have cancer during their lifetime.

"With cancer being so widespread and the effects reaching almost all families directly or indirectly. We chose the Irish Cancer Society because they are the national charity for cancer. The society works to prevent cancer, improve the quality of the lives of cancer patients, raise cancer awareness, health promotion and it also fund vital cancer research," he said.

The ball is taking place on Saturday 11th February at Dunboyne Castle Hotel, with tickets costing €55 each.

They are available from the hotel reception on (01) 801 3500.
