

The Foundry goes live and interactive with new website

Carlow based nightclub, The Foundry is set to launch its new interactive website www.thefoundrycarlow.com this summer. The newly designed website was developed by local award winning website developers t2.

The Foundry nightclub renowned in the South East as the destination nightclub of choice attracts 1,000's of loyal club goers every weekend. The premier nightclub has recently undergone a major revamp and now boasts some of the most unique lighting, sound and visual technology in Europe.

The new Foundry website now offers club goers an interactive online experience. Club goers will be able to submit photos from memorable nights, sign-up to the club newsletter, check out gigs, watch video clips of DJ's and bands in action. In addition The Foundry has a Bebo page where club patrons can make new friends and engage in online fun.

Commenting on the newly designed website Anthony Friel, of The Foundry said "The new website will offer our patrons an additional service where they can book private parties online or view the events line-up. The new website reflects our recent club refurbishment and that we are committed to offering our customers new and exciting experiences".

t2 was formed in 2004 by husband and wife team Andrew and Jane Tobin. Based in Barrowside Business Park, the company provides website development, software development and broad computer services to a range of local and national clients.

'We are proud to be involved with such a high profile club and the opportunity to work locally on exciting projects such as The Foundry website. We believe their new website will bring The Foundry closer to its loyal fan base in the South East" said Andrew Tobin, Managing Director, t2.

ENDS